Forecast for Tuesday 30 Jan 2024

Weather: Clear skies overnight leading to a frosty start to the day, perhaps the odd patch of freezing fog in the glens. Most ranges will then have a dry day with broken cloud and some sunny spells. There is the slight chance of the odd light shower in the afternoon and evening, more especially over the Monadliaths and Creag Meagaidh which would be of snow above 750m.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 800m: 90% falling 70%

Low cloud and visibility: Little cloud at first then patchy cloud at 900-1100m developing in the afternoon and evening. Visibility mainly good away from cloud, with only brief reductions in light showers.
